Nike Basketball Tournament Tips Off Friday

The Concordia men's basketball team starts its season by hosting the highly competitive Nike tournament this Friday and Saturday at the Loyola gym.

The Stingers 2002-'03 campaign begins Friday at 8 p.m. with a showdown versus the Wilfrid Laurier Golden Hawks, who posted a 12-10 win-loss record last year. Leading the Laurier charge will be Chris Keith, the 2002 CIS Rookie of the Year, and Chris Caruso, the top three-point shooter in the country.

Concordia will look to QSSF all-star guard Philippe Langlois to lead the team. Stinger head coach John Dore says size will also play a factor in the team's success.

"With the addition of Dan Lacasse at 6'10" and Dilip Nayar at 6'8", we've gone from the smallest team in the league to the biggest team in Quebec," says the veteran mentor. "Also we have nine guys back from last year, so experience-wise we should have a jump on last season."

Rounding out the field will be the Lakehead Thunderwolves, a 7-15 team last season. The Thunder Bay, Ont., contingent is expected to be very competitive this year. The RMC Paladins will meet Lakehead at 6 p.m. on Friday. The Paladins head into their third CIS season with their best team to date.

Shrine Bowl eludes Stingers

Before an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd of more than 3,800 last Saturday, the Concordia Stingers lost 28-8 to McGill Redmen, who were awarded the 16th annual Shrine Bowl and the 28th annual Shaughnessy Cup.

Concordia's only touchdown came at 5:16 of the third quarter when quarterback Jon Bond connected with slotback Darrell Wood on a 37-yard strike. Bond completed 18 of 43 passes for 207 yards. His main target was Alain Rousseau who caught six passes for 50 yards.

The Stinger defence held McGill to a net offence of 274 yards and 12 first downs. The leader on defence was fifth-year linebacker Graeme Burns. He had seven solo tackles and two assists. Defensive end Ryan Woosley collected six solo tackles, three assists, a tackle for a loss and forced a fumble.

Concordia's win-loss record falls to 3-3. The Stingers wrap up the regular season by hosting the Laval Rouge et Or on Saturday at 1 p.m. and travelling to Halifax to play the Saint Mary's Huskies on Oct. 19. The game versus Laval will be televised on RDS.

Concordia Athletes of the Week

Anna Bediako of the women's rugby team and Ryan Woosley of the football team have been named Concordia Stinger athletes of the week for the period ending Oct. 6.

Bediako, a first-year back, collected four tries in two games last week. She scored three tries in Concordia's 44-5 victory over the Bishop's Gaiters on Sunday. She also had the lone try in the Stingers 77-7 loss to the McGill Martlets last Wednesday. A native of Montreal, Bediako is a Exercise Science major.

Ryan Woosley led the Stingers defence with a total of nine tackles and a forced fumble in the Stingers' 28-8 loss to the McGill Redmen. He was a leader on a unit that held McGill's offence to just 12 first downs and 274 yards. Woosley was awarded the prestigious Ted Elsby Memorial Trophy as the top lineman in the game by the Alouettes Alumni Association. Woosley, is a third-year Marketing student from San Diego, Calif.
